

This presentation emphasizes the importance of information and values in enhancing decision quality, focusing on the need for reliable data, clear decision criteria, and the management of multi-objectives. By addressing potential pitfalls and promoting structured decision-making, we aim to foster a culture of informed choices that drive value creation in uncertain environments.